SATURDAY, NOV. 3, 1866.

Childish Wisdom.

'Twas the hour of prayer, and the farmer stood,
With a thankful heart, and a lowly mind,
And prayed to the author of every good;
That the Father of all would be very kind,
And bless his creatures with raiment and food;
That the blessing each day might be renewed,
That every want might find relief,
And plenty for hunger, joy for grief,
Be measured out by the merciful One,
To all who suffered beneath the sun.

The prayer concluded, the goodly man Went forth in peace to inspect his farm;
And by his side delighted ran,
Glowing with every healthful charm.
His little son, a sprightly boy,
Whose home was love, and whose life was joy,
And they rambled over the golden fields;
And the father said, "The harvest yields
A plentiful crop, my son, this year;
My barns are too small for the grain, I fear."

And they wandered on through row and row
Of plump sheaves, and at length the child,
With earnest look and a rosy glow
On his shining cheek, looked up and smiled,
And said, "My father, do you not pray
For the poor and needy, day by day,
That God, the good, would the hungry feed?"
"I do, my son," "Well, I think as you plead!"
His eye waxed bright, for his soul shone through It—
"That God, if he had your wheat, would do it!"

AFRAID OF HIS EARS.—At a sociable recently, a noted wag found himself, in the course of the evening, in general conversation with a nervous-looking stranger. Pointing out to him a gentleman of an inquiring turn of mind in another portion of the room, he said:

"Do you see that man there? He has a mania—a very unpleasant one, too. He is possessed with the idea that he must bite off strangers' ears, and it has caused a dreadful amount of trouble. I do not know whether he will show any of the symptoms to night, but perceiving you are a stranger, I deem it my duty to put you on your guard. Don't let him approach very close to you."

The expression of horror that spread over the face of the nervous man, clearly proved that he had heard the warning. A little later the benevolent informant got an opportunity to tell the inquiring man that that man (pointing out the warned individual) was a physical wonder, as a roaring noise could be distinctly heard proceeding from his ear by getting within eighteen inches of his head. Our curious friend was struck with such an unheard of phenomenon, and very properly began to work himself close enough for a personal investigation. The movement was seen by the nervous man, and great drops of apprehensive sweat oozed out from his brow and trickled down his cheeks. Nearer and nearer approached the one, and more terribly intense grew the horror of the other.

The space between them was slowly but surely lessening. The curious man was within an ace of the "roaring," when the agony of the "roarer" reached its crisis, and clenching his fist he landed it between the eyes of the unfortunate searcher after physical wonders, shouting at the top of his voice: "Bite off my ears, will you?"

The effect of this upon the astonished audience was very affecting.

WATER SUPPLY FOR LONDON.—London is so enormous that the local water companies cannot purvey a decent article from the present sources, especially the largest of them, the Thames, which though no longer serving as a sewer to the city as well as a cistern, performs that office for all the towns above the bridge; and no filtering process to free the water the inhabitants are compelled to drink, from impurities. As for the land springs, they are infinitely worse—so bad indeed, that the pumps had to be chained up, to prevent people seasoning themselves for the cholera. In consequence, some new, adequate source of supply is imperative, akin to that which provides New York with the beautiful Croton. Two schemes have been suggested: one the building of an aqueduct from the Welsh hills, 183 miles in length; another the converting of Ullswater, a lake lying 240 miles away, upon the confines of Westmoreland and Cumberland, into the grand tributary of the metropolis, which requires 200,000,000 gallons of water every day.

The fortifications at Hurst, near Plymouth, England, are nearly finished. They are of enormous magnitude and strength. Their total cost will not be less than $20,000,000 sterling. There will be upward of fifty steel 300-pounders Armstrong guns mounted, costing between $2,000 to $4,000 each, with a range of about five miles. The sea wall, upward of a quarter of a mile in length, is built of gigantic blocks of granite, ten and twelve tons weight each. Altogether, when finished, it will be the largest artificial fort in the world.

A MAN who has been in prison at Nashville, Tennessee, a year and a half, awaiting his trial for stealing half a bottle of wine, was recently released from confinement.

It is said that the man who makes two blades of grass spring up, where only one grew, is a public benefactor.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The Legislature of the State of S. Carolina, says the telegraph, adjourned Sept. 22d. Among the most important measures adopted were the following: An Act declaring the rights of persons known as slaves and as free persons of color. This secures to freedmen the right to make and enforce contracts, to sue and be sued, to give evidence, to inherit, purchase, lease, sell real and personal property, to make bills, enjoy full and equal benefit of personal security, personal liberty and private property, and of all legal remedies the same as whites. It further provides for the infliction of the same punishment for the same offenses upon whites and blacks alike, and repeals all laws inconsistent therewith, excepting the law declaring marriages between whites and blacks illegal and void. Further legislation for the benefit of freedmen was postponed until the regular session in November.

We thus see South Carolina—the "Hot-spur" of the South and the most ultra in her views of any of the Secession States—enacting laws for the benefit of her emancipated slaves, securing to them the same civil rights as those enjoyed by the whites, and making her laws conform to the condition of affairs produced by the late war. Notwithstanding all this, and the well established fact that such is the temper of the Southern States generally, the Radicals have the unblinking effrontery and impudence to assert that the very reverse of this is the fact—that the Southerners are endeavoring to re-enslave the freedmen, and offer this pretended fact—the coining of their subtle brains—as the principal reason why they oppose the full restoration of the Union and the enjoyment by the Southern States of their Constitutional rights. The pretext, however, is too transparent and shallow to blind and mislead the masses for any great length of time. It must soon become apparent to them, as it already is to the well informed, that the only object which the Radical leaders have in view is the perpetuation of their political power and a radical change in our form of government. He who cannot see this now, is politically blind; and he who sees it, and yet supports such leaders and such a cause, is a traitor to the Constitution of his country.

BRUTAL TEACHER.—The Dutch Flat Enquirer makes the following charges against a teacher in that town, and says that the facts can be substantiated by the larger scholars of the school, but that the Trustees nevertheless refuse to discharge him. Such facts as these, in connection with others of a much worse character which are being daily developed in relation to so many of our public schools, are tending fast to convince the public mind that the head of each family should have exclusive control over the education of its children—a doctrine which is being so ably advocated by Mr. Montgomery in the columns of the Occidental:

1. That Mr. Frink (the teacher) was often absent minded during recitations, oblivious to answers given, and would frequently on arousing from his reveries, repeat questions which had been previously answered.

2. That he was frequently querulous, nervous and impatient, and that his manners at such times excited, uncontrollably, the ridicule of the scholars.

3. That he was in the habit of seizing children by the throat and shaking them violently, by way of correction for trivial faults. In some instances, scholars were forced thus for repeating the practice of snapping their fingers to attract attention, which had become a confirmed habit under former teachers and which they could not readily control.

4. That on one occasion he fell asleep and slept for half an hour, while a class was on the floor for recitation.

5. That on one occasion he struck a lad with his fist with such violence as to blacken his eye.

6. That on one occasion he knocked a lad off the platform with his fist three times, and thrashed him over the head with two switches; the offense in this case having been that the lad did not know a lesson, from the fact that he did not know where the lesson was, and Mr. Frink had refused to tell him where it was, when requested to do so.

COOKING BEEF STEAK.—Prepare the steak by pointing and otherwise, as for broiling. Have ready a pan quite hot; grease it as for broil, lay in the steak, turn frequently to prevent its adhering to the pan, until the juice is extracted. When cooked through turn the gravy upon a platter in which has been previously put about half the usual quantity of butter, with a little water. Slightly brown the steaks on both sides, then take up, and boil up a little water in the pan to secure any remaining juices; season as desired. By this method a much larger and richer amount of gravy is obtained, with less butter than by the usual process.

WHICH LIKED.—"Pa," said little Chan-ning to his paternal ancestor, holding up a Sunday-school picture book, "what is that?" "That, my son," gravely replied the father, "is Jacob wrestling with the angel." "And which licked, pa?" innocently continued the young hopeful.

STEEP TAXATION.—If any people in the world are taxed heavier than those of California, says the Morning Call, we would just like to know where they are. The population of this State is less than half a million, yet it pays nearly eleven millions—over $22 per head—direct taxes annually to the U. S. Government. The amount of taxes paid for the support of the State, city and county governments, is not much less than eight millions of dollars in the aggregate—making, in all, full nineteen millions of dollars of taxes—equal to about $40 per head for each man, woman and child in the State. The money paid by our people for the support of the Government would pay for the board of the entire population, at a cheap and respectable mechanics' boarding house, for fully ten weeks—nearly one fifth of a year; or at the highest priced hotels for three weeks. Considering the reduction made for children's passages, the amount paid for taxes during a year is sufficient to send every person in the State to New York, if they should go in the steerage. The total assessed value of the property in the State does not exceed one hundred and eighty five millions of dollars. The aggregate amount of all the taxes paid by the people is equal to ten per cent. on the assessed value of all the property. How long can the people of the State stand up under such a load of taxation? And yet, not one of our politicians or law-makers is striving to create a better order of things. They can only look after the spoils and the interests of freedmen.

NO REPTILES IN NEWFOUNDLAND.—As a natural and somewhat curious feature, it is mentioned that the island of Newfoundland, though abounding in game, is not infested with reptiles. Capt. Charles Chearnley writes:

"In Newfoundland there is not a snake, toad, frog or reptile of any sort. There is not a squirrel on the island, no porcupine, moose, or mink; whereas, with the exception of the porcupine wanting in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, all these creatures are found in the neighboring provinces. The Arctic hare is found here in Newfoundland, but neither in Cape Breton nor Nova Scotia." One Captain Hardy calls attention to other deficiencies. He visited the island in mid-summer, and could not help remarking that fire-flies were not to be seen there, which in Nova Scotia they swarmed by thousands, their scintillations adding beauty to quiet night. The island is full of bogs and swamps, which renders it difficult to account for the total absence of reptiles.

KIND JUDGE.—A Texas Judge concluded a sentence for murder as follows:—"The fact is, Jones, the Court did not intend you to be executed before next Spring, but the weather is very cold, and our jail, unfortunately, is in a very bad condition; much of the glass in the windows is broken, the chimneys are in such a dilapidated state that no fire can be made to render your apartments comfortable; besides, owing to the great number of prisoners, not more than one blanket can be allowed to each; to sleep sound and comfortable therefore, is out of the question. In consideration of these circumstances, and wishing to lessen your sufferings as much as possible, the Court, in the exercise of its humane compassion, hereby orders you to be hung tomorrow morning at 12 o'clock after breakfast as may be convenient to the Sheriff and agreeable to you."

THE AWFUL FIELD OF SADOWA.—It is stated in the Gazette d'Angsburg that the hills surrounding Sadowa, which were occupied by the Prussian regiments were covered after the battle with several layers of dead bodies. So great had been the massacre that the dead huddled together had remained upright as if alive, and whole companies were to be seen in this position on the sides of the hills, who had been slain on the spot. The plain of Sadowa presents a frightful aspect; heaps of cannons, wagons, corpses, rolled pell-mell into the Elbe, and laid jammed between the arches of the bridge and the river was for several hours covered with dead bodies.

NEVER.—Fred. Douglass says that "He stands forth just as God made him." We beg Fred's most humble pardon says the N. Y. Day Book, but God never made him. God made white men and negroes, but He never made mulattoes. They are the origin of men's sins and crimes—and so distasteful is their existence to the beneficent Creator of everything good, that he dooms them to extinction. God will not even permit these nondescript beings to exist permanently on His footstool, but in the third or fourth generation, punishes them with annihilation.

SALARIES.—Eastern newspapers have lately been discussing the question of salaries. They have come to the conclusion that the highest salary paid to any one man in New England is that received by the agent of the Salisbury Woolen Mills—$15,000 a year. The lowest salary is said to be that of a clergyman, who stated in a religious convention in Boston that his pay for last year's preaching consisted of a new hat and a bushel of apples; but now he was fortunate as he was getting $25 dollars a year.

IF.—Every plain girl has one consolation; though not a pretty young lady, she will, if she lives, be a pretty old one.

Du Chailu's Explorations.

The London Morning Herald of Sept. 1st, says:

"At the British Association, Mons. Du Chailu stated that in 30 deg. east longitude from Greenwich, and in 2 or 3 degrees, on each side of the equator, was an immense jungle, broken here and there by fertile prairies, thinly inhabited by man, and still more thinly by beasts. There was neither lion, giraffe nor rhinoceros. By the side of man were the apes and the gorilla. There was no horse, camel, or other beast of burden, the women being employed in the heavy work. In journeying through the jungle he went for miles and miles without hearing the chirp of a bird or the footstep of a gazelle. The awful solitude was broken only by the falling of a leaf or the rippling of a brook. The lowest temperature was 68; the highest rainfall was 74 inches in 24 hours, but the average was probably not more than 200 inches in a year. The sky was almost always hazy, and was seldom more than an hour without clouds, so that he frequently had to remain night after night before he could get astronomical observations. The state of man in these regions was primitive. No trading caravans from the North, East, South or West, had ever passed through their country. The fery water had not reached them. There were a great many languages or dialects spoken by the different tribes. Their law was on the principle of a tooth for a tooth. No allowance was made for accident, but if one man killed another, the killer was always slain. A man who broke the arm of another had to submit to breaking of his own arm. They had no record of the past, and knew nothing about it. Fables, superstition, and witchcraft were all powerful. Their doctrine was that but for witchcraft there would be no death. The consequence was that when one man died there was great slaughter, in order to find out who caused his death. When a dispute arose or an offender was captured, a palaver was called, and the offender was fined or killed. None of the villages had more than a thousand people. No chief could take by force anything belonging to his people—in fact, his people, though they looked upon him as a father, would rob him not only of his property but of his wives. After simply mentioning the hairy dwarfs and the Fauns, or cannibals, M. du Chailu defended the white man from the accusations made against him of driving out the natives from barbarous countries. For himself, he was the only white man who had visited those regions, and he could assert that he had done nothing to decrease the population. Unfortunately, on one occasion one of his men fired a gun and killed a man. The king died, with all his people, except one wise man, who was disposed to call a palaver, but it was discovered that the bullet, after killing the man, had killed also the wife of this wise man. M. du Chailu and his four men then attempted to escape. They were pursued by the whole tribe. The distinguished traveler himself brought up the rear, and was wounded in the hand and side by poisoned arrows. His negroes, however, fought valiantly, and they stuck to him and conquered."

While the President was proceeding up Broadway on Wednesday night, in a barouche, with Mayor Hoffman, a couple of Irishmen in the immense crowd were overheard in the following conversation: "Jem, the heaven itself smiles upon him to-day." "Yes, Mr. Donnelly, ye may well say that. If the President had the sun in one hand and a watering-pot in the other he could not make better weather for himself."—[N. Y. Paper.]

A SALT LAKE telegram says that Dr. John King Robinson, formerly Assistant Surgeon at Camp Douglas, was decoyed from his house at a late hour on Monday night under pretext of his services being professionally required, and murdered within half a block of his own house. His funeral took place to day, under the direction of the Order of Odd Fellows. Investigation elicits nothing except that five or six persons were concerned in the murder.

SLANDER.—The Downville Messenger published a libellous attack upon Rev. Geo. B. Taylor, and afterwards took it all back and acknowledged that it was all false. But does the mere taking back of slander cure the evil? How can one stop the lie he sets in motion? Of all beings out of or in hell, the slanderer is the most villainous. They should be shunned by men and women, kicked out of society, and marked with the sign of perdition. [Chico Courant.]

A SHORT LUSHER.—A correspondent writes that he was recently invited to a one o'clock lunch at a Fifth Avenue residence of a New York broker. He was ushered into a magnificent apartment, and seated at a gorgeous table, decked in all the paraphernalia of a good dinner. The bill of fare included six courses, four sorts of wine, and a variety of pastry, etc. He rose at half past five, P. M., and yet this was only a lunch. Two men who attempted to cross the river just above Niagara Falls, on Wednesday Sept. 13th, had their boat struck by a squall forcing it into the rapids and over the Falls. The men were Mr. Cooper, said to be post-master at Chippewa, and a fireman.

LOCAL ITEMS.

"ADVOCATE."—Your letter received too late for insertion this week.

SUPERVISORS.—The Supervisors will meet on Monday next, at the Court House.

THANKS.—To Whiting & Co., Garland, and Doc. Brewster, we are indebted for favors.

SOLD.—Cap. Hersey recently sold his mining claims on Hungarian Hill, to Aschheim Bros.

STOPPED.—Work upon the Cosmopolitan Co.'s tunnel, near Genesee Valley, has stopped for the present.

TAKES.—Read the Sheriff's notice to taxpayers who have taxes to pay, and heed the notice.

AGRICULTURIST.—Copies of the American Agriculturist can be seen by calling at this Office.

THE PRICE.—Pine wood, 12 to 26 inches long is selling for $2.50 per cord, delivered in town. Oak wood of the same description is worth $3.

HIGH.—Printing paper is very high-priced about these times. The last lot we ordered, ten reams, cost us $11 per ream in S. F.

SPECIMENS.—Some of the richest rock ever taken out of the Crescent ledge, was taken below on Tuesday last by Mr. Bolinger. It was awful rich.

COARSE GOLD.—One day last week, Reed & Co. took out $1000 from their claims near Caribou, on the North Fork. It was all coarse gold, varying in weight from 25 cents to $50.

NEW MILL.—Messrs. Light & Bro. have purchased Mr. Davis' interest in the old Ward quartz claims at Genesee Valley, and intend putting up a mill to work the rock in a short time.

ACCIDENT.—One day last week, Mr. Cross, of this Valley, had one of his feet badly bruised by one of the wheels of a loaded wagon running over it. The accident happened near the Peavine Ranch.

LARGE ORDER.—It is reported that a certain quartz company in this county, have ordered about $15,000 worth of machinery, castings, &c., from one of the lower city foundries, for a new quartz mill, soon to be built.

LA PORTE & QUINCY.—A mail route will soon be established between Quincy and La Porte. Mr. Brooks, Postal Agent, went over the route on Wednesday last, and we are informed that he has signified his intention to use his influence to have the route established.

INCREASED SERVICE.—It is more than probable that the mail service on the Oroville and Taylorville route will be increased to three trips a week in summer, and two in the winter season, and also that the route will be extended to the Crescent Mills.

GOOD.—Under the instructions of Mr. Brooks, Postal Agent, the P. M. at Oroville will hereafter place the mail for Quincy and all points beyond in a through bag, which the way offices will not be obliged to sort on every trip. The mail-matter for the way-offices will be placed in a bag furnished for that purpose.

VERY RICH.—The Crescent Co., are taking out some very rich rock from their ledge in Indian Valley. It is expected that they will make one of the largest clean-ups this week ever made by the company. In the tunnel where they are now at work, the walls and quartz actually sparkle with gold when a light is near it.

OLD FELLOWS.—It is reported that several of the members of the order residing in this place and vicinity, intend organizing a lodge in this town. If they can do so they wish to re-establish under the charter of the lodge formerly located at Rich Bar. We hope their efforts to complete a lodge will be successful.

SOME.—Fred. King of Mohawk Valley started below in the stage on Tuesday last. He took with him about 100 ounces of bullion, which was taken out of his four stamp mill at Mohawk Valley, at the last clean-up. King owns about three-fourths of the whole ledge, and the whole of the mill. He has made a contract with the company to crush the quartz at the rate of $6 per ton, the company to furnish the quartz. The contract extends for two years.

INTERESTING STORY.—"One Night in San Francisco, or the Adventures of a Gay and Festive Youth from Plumas Co.," has been received. If "Observer" will please call at this office, make himself known and give us a few of the items, "untold" in his communication, he will oblige us. We will publish the story, but would like to have more of the particulars before we do so. "Observer" will please inform himself of the price of "costs," and also the street and number of the residence spoken of, before he calls upon us. If the story is true, it's decidedly rich. If it is fictitious, it is very well gotten up. That sacred concert at the "Bella Union," was decided by good.

DIXON'S WIN.—A few days since, a company of ten or twelve Chinamen on Wolf Creek, were called upon by one of the Deputy Tax Collectors for their regular $4 monthly tax. They invited the Collector into the house for the purpose of paying him. He went in, and immediately after the Chinamen shut the door, and three or four of them attacked him, but the Collector shook them off, and taking one of their sticks away from them, soon made the whole party cry "pee-ee-ee," after which they were perfectly willing to pay the taxes. There were no white men within several miles of the place, and the Chinamen doubtless thought they would get even on one "taxe man," but they picked up the wrong chap that time.

ON THE WAR PATH.—Nearly all of the braves belonging to the American and Indian Valley tribe of Indians, have been absent for the past two weeks. They went to the assistance of the Big Meadows Indians, who have declared a war of extermination against the Mill Creeks. They have been scouting around Lassen Butte and vicinity, but succeeded in capturing but one Mill Creek buck. They made mince-meat of him, if "Diggar Bill's" report of the affair is true. When we accused Bill of being afraid of the Mill Creeks, he got very indignant, and replied, "We heap hunt, but Mill Creeks run away. They no more come back; we kill 'em one, you bet." The Indian Valley Indians lost a couple of squaws, but they say they are in the woods, got lost. It may be so, but it is more likely that they were captured by the Mill Creeks.

INDIAN VALLEY RACES.—1st Day, Tuesday, Oct. 30th, 1886. Single dash of one mile, for Proprietor's Purse of $25.—$25 entrance.—entrance money added to the purse. J. W. Adams enters Ida Belmont; Conyer's Bros. enters Lime-Burner; J. Hardgrave enters Snapping Andy. Won by Adv. Time, 2:5.

2d Day, Trotting Race. Purse $500. Mile heats, best two in three. E. D. Springer names g m Emma Harding. J. W. Thompson names b s Plumas. J. Hardgrave names b s Fred Warner. On the back-stretch, the driver of Plumas came very near being thrown out by the breaking of one of the iron stays of his seat. As a matter of course, the horse broke badly, and Dick had all he could do to keep upon the sulky, let alone trying to steady his horse. When the break took place, Plumas and Emma were trotting side by side, but the stallion, consequently, soon fell behind, the mare winning the heat, Plumas second, and Fred Warner distanced. Time, 3:04. 2d Heat. The driver of Plumas having changed sulky, and got an extra heavy one,—the horses got off in good style and kept together for some distance, but the mare finally took the lead, and kept it, winning the heat and money. Time, 3:15.

3d Day. Match race of one-half mile, $100 a side, between Ben Payne's horse, Stevey, and Adams horse, McClellan. Won by Stevey. This race does not seem to have given very good satisfaction to the outsiders. We presume, however, it was all "O. K."

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—One day this week two strangers arrived in town, and had their horses put up in the livery stable. One of the horses was a large handsome black horse. The other was a small "scrub," also black. Both parties wanted to leave very early the next morning. Before day-light the owner of the "scrub" went to the stable, saddled up and started off. An hour or so after, the other gent went to the stable to have his horse saddled, when, lo, the small horse was standing in the stable, and the other was gone. The stable-keeper knew that it was all a mistake, and as the first party had gone to Spanish Ranch, the owner of the horse had "old Bill" saddled up, and off he started. The parties met on the road, changed horses, explained matters and parted. "Bob" says that after he had gone up the road some distance, he got off the horse and was surprised to see what a change one night in a good livery stable had made in him. He had increased in size and flesh amazingly, but his feet did not look natural, and he had almost come to the conclusion that there was some mistake about it, before the other fellow met him on his way back, when he knew for certain he had made a slight mistake.

FATAL AFFRAY.—At La Porte, on Saturday last, a Portuguese, named Louis, killed one Chinaman and wounded two others. The particulars, as we understand them, are as follows: Louis owns a claim on the Creek, near La Porte, and on one or two occasions has found a company of Chinamen working in his ground. On Saturday last, he saw some Chinamen at work on his ground and went and ordered them off. They went away, but soon returned with reinforcements, and commenced an attack upon Louis, who had taken a shot-gun with him, but had laid it down. One Chinaman with a drawn pick in his hand, "made for" him. Louis ran to his gun, and before the Chinaman reached him shot and killed him. Three or four others then attempted to attack him, when he discharged the other barrel of his gun at them, severely wounding two of the party. The others turned and left. Louis was arrested, and an examination will be had on Wednesday next, before Esq. Engle, at La Porte.

WORTHY OF IMITATION.—Our neighbors in Meadow Valley have recently set us an example, which we should be well pleased to see our citizens follow. A friend there writes us that the fence enclosing the graveyard at that place, built chiefly by the Sons of Temperance, some ten years since, fell down last spring. A subscription paper was immediately started,—over $300 was contributed, and under the superintendence of Mr. Richard Jacks, a new fence has been built and painted. The liberality and energy of the citizens of Meadow Valley, are well deserving of commendation. Our friend must excuse us from complying with his request to publish the names and residences of the contributors, in this issue, as we cannot well spare the space it would require.

VERY GOOD.—Sherman Bros. & Kennedy, the owners of the four stamp quartz mill and ledge at Argentine, have been doing extraordinarily well during the past month. On their last trip to town they brought about forty-five oz. of dust with them, the proceeds of their five days' work at the mill.

SPIRITUALISM.—Rev. Mr. Todd, a Lecturer on spiritualism, will deliver a course of lectures on that subject at Taylorville, commencing on this (Saturday) evening, and continuing during the whole of next week. There are a very large number of believers in that doctrine in Indian Valley.

NEW MINES.—There is considerable excitement in the southwestern portion of our county, in regard to the new diggings found in Bear Gulch, near Willow Creek. A large number of claims have been taken off, and the Co.'s which are at work are making big wages.

STORM.—It commenced raining last night, (Friday) in good earnest, and as we go to press there is no sign of its letting up. The rainy season has probably commenced, and the owners of dry ravine claims doubtless feel happy. This is their harvest season.

COURT CASE.—Court was in session on Thursday last. A final decree was made in the case of Beard vs. His Creditors, releasing him from all debts and liabilities. The Sheriff was appointed Assignee in the case of M. M. Engle vs. His Creditors, and E. B. Hitchcock vs. His Creditors.

GAVE IT UP.—We learn that White & Richards have left their claims in the river, near Nelson Point, being unable to "bottom up" the claims. They intend opening a set of claims on Willow Creek.

WENT OVER.—The Sage Brush notices the arrival of Judge Sexton and family in Susanville last week. The Brush says:

It was his intention to have been here at the appointed District Court time, but owing to an attack of sickness, he was unable to meet the time fixed for the Court. His visit therefore was not an official one—merely a social and friendly call, to let us know that he had not forgotten us, and why he did not appear when looked for.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.—A telegraphic dispatch from N. York, of the 30th ult., gives the following additional news in relation to Mexican affairs:

The Times of this morning says: It cannot be doubted but the Government of Juarez has already sought the aid of the United States in its efforts to re-establish authority over the contending factions that will arise upon the ruins of the empire. Unless the reports received from Washington are at fault, the President has indicated his willingness to enter upon such an arrangement as is disposed to send to the city of Mexico, if such a step should be deemed advisable, a force of at least twenty thousand men, under General Grant or some other officer of high rank and reputation, clothed with power to aid the Government of our sister republic in the restoration of order and security. As a matter of course, the Government of Mexico will be expected to incur all the expenses of such an enterprise. She has abundant resources for this, as well as to secure us for whatever guarantees it might be wise for us to give for the payment of the debts justly due England and France, which were made the pretext for the recent invasion of her soil. And for the payment of other debts, not, of course, including those of the empire, which we have never acknowledged, and for which France can have no valid claim, the customs to be collected at Mexican ports, already pledged to foreign Powers and which would be transferred to us, would be ample.

On the 30th, the Washington special dispatch to the Times says: Lewis B. Campbell, Minister to Mexico, has left Washington with instructions accredited to the Juarez Government. The French evacuation will commence next month, and be completed by the 1st of Jan. Our Government will extend a Protectorate over the Juarez Government, which, in return, codes to the United States the whole of Lower California, Sonora and Chihuahua. Sherman and Hancock are both named to command the American expedition. It is rumored that Sheridan has been ordered to Washington, which, if true, may indicate him as the coming man.

THE CONDEMNED FENIANS.—It appears that President Johnson, according to the popular wish, as expressed by the large meetings in New York, or from his own volition, has directed the Secretary of State to make an effort to save the condemned Fenians, Col. Lynch and Father McMahon.—Mr. Seward has accordingly addressed Sir Frederick Bruce, British Minister at Washington upon the subject, and in his note says:

It would be very gratifying to the President if you should be able to give an assurance that the execution of the sentences will be suspended if occasion for delay shall arise. Finally, I deem it proper to say that the offenses involved in these trials are in their nature eminently political, and it is the opinion of this Government that sound policy coincides with the best impulses of benevolence in recommending tenderness, amnesty and forgiveness. This suggestion is made with freedom and earnestness, because the same opinions were proposed to us in our recent civil war by all Governments and public bodies of Europe, and by none with greater frankness and kindness than by the Government and statesman of Great Britain.

NOT READY.—The Appeal was mistaken when it stated some time since, that Avery & Ayer were "ready to leave," &c. It spoke without authority. Better post yourself, hereafter, Mr. Appeal. You don't like the President, "muchly," do you? You will like him less before you are through with him.

DO IT.—If a radical Senator is to be elected in Nevada this coming winter, the party ought to throw Nye and DeLong both overboard, and elect Sumner.

SCENE IN A SCHOOL ROOM.—The Springfield, Mass., Republican is responsible for the following:

Mistress—Come here, George; I wish to examine you in punctuation. Now, tell me what that is?

George—That's a comma.

Mistress—Right; now what's that?

George—Ah! now you've got me where my hair is short; I don't know.

Mistress—George, I don't wish you to use any slang phrases here. When you are unable to give correct answers, say so, but do not repeat such slang phrases as that you have just used. Now, what's that?

George—(Looking critically at the point in question)—Ha! ha! ha! Now I've got you where your hair is short; that ain't nothing only a fly dirt!

Mistress—(Re-examining critically)—You are dismissed, George.

GOOD HOME-MADE YEAST.—The following is in general use in the community where I reside: Boil a handful of hops in two quarts of water about 20 minutes. Pare and grate three good sized potatoes. Add 2 table-spoonsful of wheat flour, 1 lb. of sugar, 1 lb. of salt; strain water hot into this mixture, stirring well together; then boil about five minutes. Set away to cool to milk warmth, then add a cup of yeast, and keep in a warm place until light and foaming. Put away in a jar or close vessel in a cool place. It will keep some weeks.

RE-ARRANGED.—Sunday night last, two prisoners broke jail at Sanquillo—the officers took the Idaho stage for Chico, laid over at Dyer's place near the summit, waited for the jail-birds, and on Tuesday morning they made their appearance, and were mailed and taken back to Sanquillo to await their trial for burglary. "This was pretty quick work, and speaks well for the officers of Lassen county."—Chico Courier.

TO TALK POINT.—"Say, boss, what's it gwine to sleep?" asked a stalwart free lunan of the over-seer, after he had been six weeks on the plantation. "Sleep? why, where in the thunder have you been sleeping since I hired you?" "Well, boss, I've been sleeping on top of a sick nigger since I've been here, but he's got well now, and won't stand that kind of darn foolishness no longer." A whole cabin was immediately awarded him.

IN Boston, recently, a colored man was arrested for drunkenness. He was soon overheard praying, and in the course of his devotions asked "de Lord to forgib" his many trespasses, and particularly to pardon him for stealing a watch. The calaboose keeper overheard him, and made him hand over a valuable watch and chain. In vivo veritas.

Mrs. Partington remarked the other day that "she had a resentment that she should eventually die in a prison," adding that "the resentment troubled her a good deal, but she expected finally to get immured to it."

The Grass Valley Union estimates the population of Grass Valley Township at 12,000. In this Township, beside Grass Valley there are several large villages. The population of Nevada Township is probably between six and seven thousand.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A PURE AND POWERFUL TONIC, Corrective and Alterative,

—OF—
WONDERFUL EFFICACY IN DISEASES

—OF THE—
Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent
Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising
from Biliousness,
whether latent
in the system,
Or produced by Special Causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical elements, no fierce drugs; but it is a combination of the extracts of balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Deceptive arising from Old Age, it exercises an electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a digestive and tonic. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to reinforce and re-establish the system.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA, Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent
Fever, Cramps, Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising
from Biliousness,
whether latent
in the system,
Or produced by Special Causes.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Loss of spirits and Fits of Langor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The tendency of this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agency of BILLOT'S COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasional resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

Last, though not least, it is the ONLY SAFE STIMUlant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements, present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stimulants of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and so truly and deservedly popular as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Sewing Machines.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD!!

Highest Premium, Fair American Institute.

Highest Premium, State Fair of California, 1866.

It makes four different stitches,
the lock, knot, double lock,
and double knot, on one and the same machine. Each stitch being alike on both sides of the fabric.

Every Machine has the reversible feed motion, which enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb-screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to stay any part of the seam, or fasten the ends of seams without turning the fabric.

Changing the length of stitch, and from one kind of stitch to another, can readily be done while the Machine is in motion.

The needle is easily adjusted.

Its motions are all positive; there are no springs to get out of order, and its simplicity enables the most inexperienced to operate it.

It does not require finer thread on the under than on the upper side, and will sew across the heaviest seams, or from one to more thicknesses of cloth, without change of needle, tension or breaking thread.

The only machine having a self-adjusting shuttle tension—the amount of tension always being in exact proportion to the size of the bobbin.

The hemmer is easily adjusted, and will turn any width of hem desired.

It is almost noiseless, and can be used where quiet is necessary.

No other Machine will do so great a range of work as the Florence.
